

My game is a combination of a platformer game and a fighting game. The player will have to defeat different bosses to level up and eventually be able to defeat the final boss. The game will also have a focus on adventure and encourages the player to explore as much as possible.