

You are a new rookie who has just been accepted into a new team. You have been practicing with go karts and real cars and started your career with street racing and racing from drifting on mountain passes and street corners to being the fastest on expressways.

Circuitboard Raceway was built in the 1970's and many drivers have driven on this track to win and earn first place. Its name originated from the location of where the track was built on a circuit board.

Your race car is the vehicle of your choice. It is in a blur paint job and has 2 light blue stripes. The car has around 700 horsepower and 690 foot pounds of torque and has a top speed of 220 miles per hour. It was used previously by famous drivers and has been in top podiums.

Your rival Hamilton is a legendary pro driver that has won a lot of races. He was famous from his fast driving and his skills of setting the best lap times. He has taken an interest in you and notices that you are a talented driver and a pro. He wants to challenge you one on one and race on Circuitboard Raceway and see who is the number one driver.