

Prologue

Billy Bob, wakes up and goes through his morning routine. He can choose to talk to his parents (get a ride) or walk to school.

Walking to School:

Walking will leave you to get bullied on the street. You'd end up getting late to school, on your way there, you can choose to take a shortcut through the bushes or continue down the street.

Get a Ride:

You talk to your parents, Swaggy James and YoMama James, and convince them to give you a ride to school. On the drive, you see three bullies beating up a kid near the bushes. But you pay no mind, being glad that it wasn't you. Continue.

Take a shortcut:

As you walk through the bushes, you spot something shiny reflecting off the sunlight. You can hurry to school, or ignore your instincts.

Continue down the street:

As you make your way back to school, you bump into someone, dropping his card. You can ignore him for being blind, or help him out.

Continue:

You arrive at school very early, being satisfied that you don't have to deal with anyone. You arrive at locker 420, and collect your materials for the day. While on your way to your first class, you hear some humming in the bathroom. Be weird and Investigate it. Or Be the first person in class.

Hurry to School:

As you make your way running to be late, a random twig unties your shoelace and you end up falling in a ditch. Death Try Again?

Ignore your Instincts:

You forget every life lesson your parents taught you, and you find a golden computer mouse in the bush. As you examine the mouse, you find the bottom to blind you in a bright flash of light and then, silence... Wake up.

Ignore him for being blind:

You continue walking leaving the man on the floor for not paying attention. Unlucky for you however, you forgot to tie your shoelace and end up face planting on the concrete. Death Try Again?

Help him out:

You felt like being kind today and turned around to help the man, “Oh I’m so sor-”, but he was gone.

All that was left was a business card on the floor. When he picked it up, he could see that an insignia with the letters “AS” were printed on the card. Written on the back you find it says, “Meet me in the restroom at 7:50.” Do you keep the card or throw it away?

Be weird and investigate it:

As you enter the restroom, you spot a tall man in snazzy clothes washing his hands. But you notice that his hands and face are both purple. You freak out a little, thinking that this can’t be real, Thanos is a fictional character. The man notices you and is put in shock.

“Whoa! Don’t freak out their son, I’m still a human.”

Freak out, Calm down, or Question why he’s purple.

Be the First Person in Class:

As you continue down the hall to enter the room, you spot three individuals already in there. But you immediately recognize them, your bullies since forever.

“Oh man look it’s Billy.” Said Mike. You stop in fear.

“Really?” Said Squigidy, “Guess we’re gonna be new classmates from now on.” You continue down your life with Endless Suffering. Try Again?

Wake Up:

You wake up in the forest at dusk. Your head is still fuzzy from what happened before you got knocked out.

“Are you good kid?” You are startled by the mysterious voice, and look to see where it came from. That is when you spot the silhouette of a tall man in the shadow of a tree. “You were passed out for hours, it’s already 5PM. Can you stand?” Attempt to Run away, or Cooperate?

Keep the Card:

You stuff the card in your pocket, and sprint on your way to school. You don’t hesitate to enter the restrooms, but then you stop to think. “Should I really go along with this?” or “This is destiny!” proceeds to move forward.

Throw it away:

As you fling the car onto the street, it hits a smart car's windshield and blinds the driver. He swerves onto the sidewalk and flips over on contact with the fire hydrant. And you can do nothing but watch this metal box however over your head. Death Try Again?

Freak Out:

Before you can even let out a scream, you turn white and pass out. Too bad you fell on the bathroom floor. You've been contaminated Try again?

Calm Down:

His voice is able to put you at ease. You then put two together.

"Ah, you have cyanosis?"

"Something like that, yeah. What are you doing here?"

"Uh, using the bathroom." You lied, "What are you doing here? I've never seen you at the school before?"

"Well, I was here for business but the person I'm waiting on hasn't shown up yet." Then he got an Idea. "Hey, kid. Would you like to explore a whole new world?" This catches you by surprise. Do you Accept his offer or Walk away from this stranger?

Question Why he's purple:

"Uhm, Sir. How come you are purple?"

"Oh, I have some sort of thing going on with me. I'm sorry to startle you. I was just waiting for someone in here."

"In the bathroom?"

"Uh... yeah I guess. But I'm not really a teacher, so I don't have a classroom to meet up in."

"Well maybe he bailed out on you for wanting to meet in a school bathroom."

"What are you trying to- wait. Since this dude might not show up. Do you want to take up on his offer?" This catches you by surprise. Do you Accept his offer or Walk away from this stranger?

Run Away:

You start to feel the adrenaline kicking in. For one you are lost, two you don't know who this man is, and three, the previous two should tell you to run the heck away! You go to sprint out the forest, but trip on your shoelace and fall headfirst into a ditch. Death Try Again?

Cooperate:

You pick yourself back up, but are still weary of the man. "Uhm, I have a few questions?"

"Go ahead."

"Ok. One, who are you? Two, where am I? Three, what happened to me? And lastly, I am starving to death over here!"

"Well for starters..." The man walks out of the shadow, revealing a tall man with snaggy clothes and purple skin. "My name is Limar. You are still in the forest next to the school, you might have gotten superpowers." He takes a sandwich out of his pocket, "And this is for you." He tosses you the sandwich. Catch it or Drop it?

Should I Really Go Along With This?:

You second guess yourself and leave the restroom alone. Never finding out what this encounter could have been. Boring Ending Try Again?

This is Destiny!:

As you enter the restroom, you spot a tall man in snazzy clothes washing his hands. But you notice that his hands and face are both purple. You freak out a little, thinking that this can't be real, Thanos is a fictional character. The man notices you and is put in shock.

"Whoa! Don't freak out their son, I'm still a human."

Freak out, Calm down, or Question why he's purple.

Accept His Offer:

With no fear in you, Billy Bob accepts. "Sure what is it?"

"We are a group of individuals with supernatural powers and intellect. We use or combine strength to protect the world from the weird."

"Like a cult?"

"What!? No. More like vigilantes."

"Well that seems cool."

"But there is an initiation." He pulls out a two by two lego brick from his pocket. "I need you to break this brick with your bare hands." He tosses the brick to you and you catch it. Unsure about how to go about this. Do you, Use your STR or Your Intelligence?

Walk away from this stranger:

You second guess yourself and leave the restroom alone. Never finding out what this encounter could have been. Boring Ending Try Again?

Catch it:

You perfectly catch the sandwich, surprising even yourself. "Oh my gosh. I do have superpowers!"

"What? No, all you did was catch it. Don't you play any sports?"

"No"

"You never played catch?"

"I tried with my dad, but the ball broke my glasses when it hit my face." You then begin to eat the sandwich.

"Alright well let's test out your abilities." He takes out a 2 by 2 lego piece. "Try breaking it." You can either Tear it in two or Crush it.

Drop it:

The sandwich slips between your fingers and heads straight to the ground. You begin to try desperately to catch, but instead of reaching for the sandwich, your hand glows green as the sandwich levitates mid air. “Unbelievable. Telekinesis of all things.” He smiles and crouches down next to you. “Hey kid. How would you like to join me in helping the world?” He holds a card out towards you. Accept or Decline?

Use you STR:

As you try desperately to break the brick with your hands, you tire out instead. “Sorry kid, I thought you were the one.” Failure Try Again?

Your Intelligence:

As you make it look like you try breaking the block, you come up with a random excuse to distract the man. “Oh look, a flying pig!” The man turns around in shock. You use this opportunity to break the brick upon the sink.

“I don’t see a pig anywhere. Hey tell me who come you can see z-” But as he turns around, he sees that you have broken the brick. “My gosh that’s amazing! Hey kid you got some real skills.”

“I do?” You say confused. No one besides your parents has said something like that to you.

“Heck yeah, not everyone I come across can break a lego brick.” He sticks his hand out. “The name’s Limar, welcome aboard.” You shake in return.

“Billy Bob.” Then you feel something in your hand. A card with Awoken Students written on it.

“Just hop on by near the janitor office tomorrow and I’ll introduce you to everyone else.” As you leave the bathroom, you can tell that big things are happening. Return Home.

Tear it in two:

As you go to tear the brick in two. Your hands begin to glow green and you snap the brick with ease. “How did I do that? I always cut myself using legos.”

“Well fear no more kid, because it looks like that wimpy body of yours can be enhanced now. Looks like you achieved telekinesis.” He smiles and crouches down next to you. “Hey kid. How would you like to join me in helping the world?” He holds a card out towards you. Accept or Decline?

Crush it:

As you go to crush the brick, both of your hands glow green and you hear a loud crunch within your hands. As you let go you see the lego brick in your hand, crumble like a piece of paper. “How did my skinny arms do that?”

“That wasn’t your arms kid.” He points at his head. “That was your mind. You hands glowing are an indicator that you can use telekinesis.” He smiles and crouches down next to you. “Hey kid. How would you like to join me in helping the world?” He holds a card out towards you.

Accept or Decline?

Decline:

Oh, did you actually decline this opportunity? The rest of the story kinda relies on you joining. So if you wish, I guess you ended the game, or you could Try Again.

Accept:

You shake hands, and take the card with you. It reads "Awoken Students."

"Welcome aboard kid. I'll introduce you to everyone tomorrow. Just meet up in the janitor's office." You now feel yourself becoming a lot more important from now on. Of course you head back to your house, to keep your parents from worrying. Return Home Late.

Mission Day

New restart spot

Return Home: (3rd restart spot, aka Day)

You hitch a ride back home with your sister, Riley James. Although your little brother, Jooga James, already beat you to the passenger seat. As you arrive back home, your parents have already set up dinner for everyone. You can Talk about the event or Skip to the next day.

Return Home Late: (2nd restart spot, aka Trip)

As you begin running home late, your legs start to tire out. But you can get a feel for your new powers. Strengthen your legs or Make yourself fly?

Talk about the event:

As you prepare yourself to speak, you start to realize that maybe telling your family that you joined a vigilante group isn't the right move so you keep it to yourself.

You head back to your room to get ready, till you hear a knock on your door. "You got a sec, son?" Your father, Swaggy James, enters your room with a big bag with him.

"Sure." You say automatically.

"Seemed like you had something on your mind back there. Got anything you want to talk about?" Tell him everything or keep quiet.

Skip to the next day:

As the new day started, you wasted no time heading straight for the school. As you open the door to the janitor office a mind inside yells. "AY! What' you doing boy!?" Apologize or Make a bluff.

Strengthen Your Legs:

Your legs begin to emit a neon green glow, and you rush down the street with super speed. Just to get pulled over by an officer who thought you were a car. Busted. Restart the trip?

Make yourself fly:

You try to focus your mind to help yourself levitate. After opening your eyes, you see yourself a few feet off the ground. Filled with excitement, you easily get the hang of being in the air and launch yourself back home to hit the hay. Next Day.

Tell him everything:

AS you retail your eventful day to your father. You expected more of a reaction, but instead your father was intrigued. "I don't know what you're talking about."

Now you take back everything you thought.

"But it sounds to me like you got into a group of friends who can roleplay."

How did that conclusion happen?

"I just came to give you this new bag." He puts the black bag on the bed. "I thought you could start using this to bring stuff with you, instead of using your old bag."

"Oh, cool. Thanks."

"I'm proud you're making friends, son. You have a good one." He leaves after rustling your hair. Somehow you're not surprised by how oblivious he is, but hey you got a new bag to use. Start the big day.

Keep quiet:

You decided to tell him nothing, special.

"Alright then son. Have a good night." Your father then leaves without the bag. So you go to retrieve it for him, but in an instant you got swallowed by an unknown creature. Death? Restart the Day?

Apologize:

"Oh, i'm sorry sir I just-"

"Hahaha!" You soon realize who this man is, Limar. "Why do you get so spooked all the time?"

"Well I thought you were-"

"Nevermind that, I actually got an urgent matter that needs to be addressed. Meaning you have your first mission."

"Already, cool. What are we doing?"

"We are heading to a laundromat. Got reports of a zingai flooding the place."

"A what?"

wearing these.” He pulls out sunglasses. “This will help us see them better. Now let's get going.” Proceed to laundromat.

Make a bluff:

“Ah, I thought this was a bathroom.”

“DoEs ThIs LoOk LiKe A bAtHrOom to you Boy! What' you gonna do PEE in my sink!?” The situation just got too intense for you to handle and you faint. Restart the day?

Next Day:

The birth of a new day sparks you with energy. As you blitz through the house to get ready to leave, and speed your way back down to the school. You reach the janitor office just to find it empty. Then suddenly, the walls start to open up and out comes Limar reading a letter.

“Ah, you got here early. I assume you're ready?”

“Yep! What are we gonna do?”

“Well this paper here is an urgent request to help the manager of the laundromat to get rid of a zingai.”

“A what?”

“Zingai are these phantasmal creatures that cause a nuisance to everybody. Although it is really hard to see them, that is why we are wearing these.” He pulls out sunglasses. “This will help us see them better. Now let's get going.” Proceed to laundromat.

Start the big day:

The new day starts and you open your new bag. It seems pitch black, but regardless you put your stuff in there. Then you head on your way to school, surprisingly there was no traffic or anything slowing you down for the matter. You arrive at the janitor office while finding Limar doing the same, but entering from the other wall.

“Oh, you're here early. Got a new bag?”

“Yeah, it's really light and there was no traffic so I got here early. What's in your hand?”

“Well this paper here is an urgent request to help the manager of the laundromat to get rid of a zingai.”

“A what?”

“Zingai are these phantasmal creatures that cause a nuisance to everybody. Although it is really hard to see them, that is why we are wearing these.” He pulls out sunglasses. “This will help us see them better. Now let's get going.” Proceed to laundromat.

The Laundromat

Proceed to laundromat:(Mission Restart Point)

The both of you proceed to the Red Cycle laundromat. As you enter, you are greeted by the manager, who looks a bit shaken.

“Ah, are you from the Awoken Students?”

“Yes we are. Care to run by me the specifics of what's going on?” As the Limar was getting information from the manager. You notice a person walking through the doors. He looks to be around his late teens with black hair and very distant. Approach the fellow or Listen in on the conversation.

Listen in on the conversation:

You ignore the kid and listen back. As the manager is talking, he notices the kid.

“That’s him! He keeps messing this place up.” Before we can all turn to get a good look at him. A large shadow emerges from the kid’s back and floods the whole store catching everyone by surprise. Y’all Suffocated.

Restart the Mission?

Approach the fellow:

You decide to approach the fellow all willy nilly. “Hello sir. How are you today-” you then notice that he twitches from your approach and stares at you with red eye.

“Stay away from me.”

“Uhm, are you okay?” You reach your hand out, and the kid fully turns around. You get a good look at his face. His left eye is red and his right eye hazel.

“Billy, watch out!” A shadow begins to rise from the kid’s back and all the washing machines start to spin like crazy.

“Woah!” That is when you decide to Try to talk it out, Protect the others, or try to take him out.

Try to talk it out:

(If you have the backpack or telekinesis) As you begin to deliver a heartfelt speech, the shadow seenses a threatening aura from you and decides to flood the whole store. Y’all Suffocated. Restart the Mission?

(If you have no powers) You come up with a random speech on the spot.

“Sir, we can help you! Please let us save you from that shadow thing.”

“You can see it?” The kid says.

“Yeah, please hold out so we can help!” The kid will begin his struggle with the shadow, stopping it from acting at the moment.

“That kid is possessed by a zingai, Billy!”

“How do we help him?”

“Get me close to him!” You look around for any means to get close. Try throwing Limar or Use the clothes in the machine?

Protect the others:

(If you have no powers) You tried your best to protect the others, but are overwhelmed by the rushing wave of water. Y'all Suffocated. Restart the Mission?

(If you have telekinesis) You created a forcefield for the others, but left yourself vulnerable to the rushing wave of water. Y'all Suffocated. Restart the Mission?

(If you have the backpack) As you lunge yourself to protect the others, your backpack opens up. The zipper becomes a large mouth that drinks up all of the water coming your way. You then start to freak out. "What the heck! Why does this bag have a mouth!?"

"Sorry, my mouth was full when I was eating your stuff." Said the bag. "I couldn't speak until now. But for feeding me I can help you with whatever you need."

"Wait, you ate my stuff?"

"Now is not the time. We need to rescue that kid. Get me to him!" You can Throw the bag or use it as a shield.

Try to take him out:

(If you have nothing or the backpack) You rush towards the kid to put him down. But the shadow summons forth a wave of water from the machines to flood the building. Y'all Suffocated. Restart the Mission?

(If you have telekinesis) You stick up your hand as it glows green, and launch the kid towards the back of the store. He falls unconscious next to the machines.

"Get me to him, Billy" Limar comes rushing your way, and you move up to get close. But the shadow emerges from the body, and you see it's giant red eye in front of you. What do you do? Fall back or Tackle?

Try Throwing Limar:

You decided that the best course of action was to throw Limar. But you don't even have the strength to lift up a garbage bag. The shadow is able to break free and flood the store. Y'all Suffocated. Restart the Mission?

Use the clothes in the machine:

You pull out a bunch of T-shirts from a machine. Luckily they are all tangled up and form a rope. You use this as a support to help Limar reach the kid. The water coming from the machines is not able to push you back far enough, and Limar is able to reach his hands out. A white glyph symbol appears on the back of his hand as he yells, "PURGE!" A blinding light is followed by the screams of the shadow and the machines go quite. Conclusion #1

Throw the bag:

As you throw the bag at the shadow, it just simply lifts up the body of the kid and the bag swallows him instead. Bad Ending. Restart the Mission?

Use it as a shield:

“Follow behind me!” You yell. Limar follows your lead, as you raise your bag. The force of water coming at you from the machines are all being nullified by the bag’s thirst. With little resistance you are able to get close enough to the kid for Limar to reach his hand out. A white glyph symbol appears on the back of his hand as he yells, “PURGE!” A blinding light is followed by the screams of the shadow and the machines go quite. Conclusion #2

Fall back:

The shadow appears in it’s zingai form in front of you and catches you by surprise. You instinctively take a step back away from the zingai. But this moment of freedom allows it to take the initiative and summon a flood of water from the machines. Y’all Suffocated. Restart the Mission?

Tackle:

Even though the shadow appeared in its zingai form, you won’t give it a chance to breathe. You throw your whole body at the zingai. Even though it is oddly shaped, it has great strength. You try with all your might to take it down, and subconsciously use your telekinesis to pin the creature to the ground. While you have it down. Limar is able to reach the kid and stick his hand out to him. A white glyph symbol appears on the back of his hand as he yells, “PURGE!” A blinding light is followed by the screams of the shadow and the machines go quite. Conclusion #3

Conclusion #1

Once you can see again, you notice the kid’s body. “Is he alright?” “Yeah he’ll be fine. I just simply remove the zingai from his body. He isn’t possessed anymore.” He then turns to look at you. “But you are a quick thinker.” He smiles, “You can really be a great leader kid. I know you will make a change.” You realize now that you saved everyone here with your wits alone. You actually believe that you can become someone great. Mission Complete!

Conclusion #2

Once you can see again you notice the kid’s body. “Is he alright?” “Yeah he’ll be fine. I just simply remove the zingai from his body. He isn’t possessed anymore.” He then turns to look at you. “But how did you get a hold on that zingai?” He points at the bag.

“I don’t know. I just got this from my dad yesterday.”

“Well I should purge it just to be sure.” That is when you feel the bag’s feelings, fear.

“No.” You said. “It helped us save this man’s life. And it was hanging around with my father.” He looks at the bag. “I believe that this bag isn’t like that other one.”

“I never heard kinder words.” The bag said, “But it is true.” He transforms into a humanoid, with a black cloak, grey skin, and it’s eyes are found at the back of his hands. “I’ve watched over this boy's family for generations. I protected his pure mind from the others.”

“Wow, a good zingai? This is unheard of.” I then stand next to him.

“Well, I did just go on a mission that I never in a million years would have imagined myself doing. But my bag and I will save the world from all these zingais!” A new resolve is found within Billy, giving himself a future that will lead him through journeys. Mission Complete!

Conclusion #3

Once you can see again, you notice the kid’s body. “Is he alright?”

“Yeah he’ll be fine. I just simply remove the zingai from his body. He isn’t possessed anymore.” He then turns to look at you. “But you got a hang of that power very quick.” He smiles. “I’m proud of you. I think it’s safe to say that this power of yours is in the right hands.” You look down upon yourself. Realizing now, that you have become the hero of your own story and with these powers, you can save others from the zingais. Mission Complete!

Mission Complete!

The End
